Calling for Volunteer Donors

Hello Friends,

My name is Hong Ma. Some of you may know that I have kidney disease. My kidney disease has gotten worse to the point where my kidneys aren't well enough to keep me alive. Currently my treatment options are limited to dialysis or a kidney transplant.

As of now I'm having dialysis treatment every day. This is very difficult and is taking a toll on me but it will keep me alive, a transplant would offer me more freedom and the ability to live a longer, healthier life. A transplant would allow me to take care of my disabled husband and my family and would relieve my pressure greatly.

The Summer 2024 Graduation Speech

Over the past 20 years, we have witnessed a significant shift in how complementary health approaches are perceived and utilized in the United States. A recent analysis by the National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (NCCIH) reveals that the use of complementary health approaches among U.S. adults has nearly doubled—from 19.2 percent in 2002 to 36.7 percent in 2022. Even more compelling is the fact that these approaches, including acupuncture, massage therapy, and meditation, are increasingly being used to manage pain. This is a testament to the growing recognition of the efficacy of the practices you have spent years mastering.
