Colorado Chinese Medicine University is pleased to invite you to the 2nd Colorado Acupuncture & Herbal Medicine Expo: A Whole-

Person Health Community Wellness Initiative.

This two-day community event will bring together leading practitioners, educators, researchers, and wellness professionals to explore how Chinese medicine and integrative health can support healthy aging, physical and emotional well-being, and healthier communities.

Participants will have the opportunity to attend presentations and demonstrations on:

- Acupuncture and herbal medicine
- Healthy aging and whole-person health
- Tai Chi and Qigong
- Nutrition and food therapy
- Meditation and breathwork
- Stress, sleep, and emotional well-being
- Movement, yoga, and physical therapy

The Expo will also include a free community acupuncture clinic, wellness demonstrations, exhibitors, and opportunities to meet practitioners and organizations from across the community.

Whether you are already familiar with Chinese medicine or are simply interested in learning new ways to improve your health and well-being, this event offers something for everyone.

Admission is free, but advance registration is strongly encouraged.

Reserve your ticket today and invite your family, friends, colleagues, and community members to join us.
